Friday 28th September 2018

Dear Families,
We have had another super week at West Meadows culminating our fantastic Macmillan Coffee Morning. This is always a pleasure to attend and I am always amazed at everyone's generosity – a wonderful cause supported by wonderful people is how I see it.

The week began with Freddy Fit and his attendance launch. Thank you to Mrs. Beever for arranging this treat – the children absolutely loved it and I hope you saw Freddy in action on the website and through the Twitter feeds.

I must pass on our good wishes to Miss Boon (French Teacher) as she is absent from school due to an injury. Get well soon Madame!

I have to mention a health & safety point as well. Please could all adults and children stop exiting school by climbing over the Y6 fence and leaving through the car park! Obviously, this has safety implications and I would rather not spend money from the budget on a higher fence to go around the building. Thank you for this. Speaking of away from school, today is Miss Jones' last day before leaving us to have her baby. She looks absolutely wonderful and we are all SO excited for her and her lovely family. We will miss her lots over the coming months, she will make the most wonderful Mummy though and we all send her our love at this most special of times.

It is very quiet in school today – Ms. Steele, Mrs. Walton & Mrs. Brown are attending training events. The Maths project we are subscribed to looks very exciting and we have master mathematicians aplenty here!

As always, have a wonderful weekend – especially as it is Ryder Cup time.
