Stanley Gets Stuck!

One morning Stanley goes to the park with Arthur and their friends, but right as Stanley was going into the park all of the air came out of him and he became flat again but he didn't notice right away that he was becoming flat until he looked down at himself. They all decided to play a game of hide and seek it was Stanley's turn to seek, Stanley found his friend Jack hiding in a bush, but it was quite hard to see him and so Stanley had to get in the bush too but he got stuck! Stanley started to shout to his friends that "Stanley where are you?" Stanley replied "I'm stuck in a bush with Jack and we can't get out!" All the friends had to work together to help free Stanley and Jack from the bush, after that they decided it was much safer to play tag instead. By Tillie

My Flat Stanley Mini Story

Beginning

One wintery morning Flat Stanley's mum and dad received a letter, they have chosen for a new house, they visited the house to see if they liked it and they accepted and could move in a month.

Stanley waited until it got dark and sneaked right in under the door, Stanley was amazed looking round, the new house was quite huge, Stanley ran upstairs and chose his bedroom. Stanley went back every night and decorated every room so his mum and dad didn't have to when they moved in.

Middle

On the lovely spring morning, it was moving day, Stanley couldn't wait for his parent to see what he had done.

As they walked into the house they were amazed it was fully decorated and Stanley had chosen his own bedroom.

Flat Stanley and his family were exhausted from the move and went to bed early.

Stanley woke for a drink, Stanley went for a cold glass of water, as he was drinking his water he saw something at the corner of his eye and moved swiftly and so did the thing, Stanley was running around the house and up stairs screaming HAUNTED HOUSE HAUNTED HOUSE with the thing right behind him.

His parents quickly rushed to help Stanley. Stanley's mum laughed at him and told him it was just his shadow.

End

Stanley played outside at his new home, the garden was absolutely massive, he couldn't choose where he wanted to play first then decided to look at the fish in the big pond and dipped his feet in, laughing at the fish touched his toes.

Stanley then went to play in the sand pit and it reminded him of the time he went to the beach and the nasty crab snapped at his toes, Stanley quickly stepped out of the sandpit and went in for his tea.

It was a sunny but windy day in Hoyland and Flat Stanley was out for a walk but a sudden gust of wind blew him into Casey's house when Sam, her mum was walking in from work.

Sam went into the fridge to make Casey a nice yummy sandwich and Flat Stanley was thirsty from his walk, he went in the fridge and ended up stuck when Sam closed the door!

Stanley got a drink of water and decided to have a snack, he had a chicken salad sandwich. He heard Casey come into the kitchen and began knocking loudly and shouting "hello, help me i'm stuck in the fridge" Casey was scared of the noise but opened the fridge to see who it was. Flat Stanley jumped out of the fridge and jumped out of the kitchen window, Casey was shouting for him to wait but he had run up the garden and disappeared.

My Flat Stanley Mini Story

It was a nice hot summer day me and all my friends was doing work when suddenly Miss heavens came in worried and said Mr wood was missing! Casey said i hope he is ok Mason said why dont stanley help us. Stanley said yes i can go into his office and see if he is there. So everyone went to his office to put Stanley there. Stanley went under the door and the room was so clean and he could not see him so he came out and said if Casey can hold a piece of string so she did and Stanley shouted i can see him he is at a tall thick tree so Casey pulled the string down and everyone ran there and then they found him so Ruby wisped to Mr wood why dont we get some cookies So then Mr wood wisped back and saide yes so he said to us all lets go back inside and get some cookies since you saved me and they did

My Flat Stanley Mini Story

Early in the morning, Stanley went shopping in the supermarket but when he walked in a spooky ghost captured him and took him to a scary castle. Stanley is trapped inside the spooky castle and can't get out. The spooky ghost came and hit him on the head with a spoon and he fell to the ground, then the ghost ate a marshmallow. The ghost draws a picture of the Titanic and colours it in. Stanley woke up and he was flat, he didn't know how he was flat, he thought he was flat because he was hit in the head with a spoon.

A brave knight called Robert came and tried to save Stanley by slicing the ghost but he didn't succeed, he had no luck like Stanley but the ghost flew off to heaven and was never seen again but the time he went to heaven it was night time there was lightning too psh psh psh it went!

My Flat Stanley Mini Story

One cold and snowy morning me and Flat Stanley took Toby for a walk. We had been walking on the snowy white field for a couple of minutes when Toby spotted a group of people walking their big black dog. He ran so fast to the people and his lead snapped. I shouted "Toby come here!" I felt mad. Toby ran so far away I couldnt see him.

Flat Stanley said " Fly me as a kite, I can see more from high up" That was a helpful idea but I didnt have any string. "Good idea Stanley but I havent got any string so you would just fly away." I said. "What about if you roll me up and make me into a telescope" said Stanley. "Ok great idea" I said. So I rolled him up and started looking for naughty Toby.

After about five minutes I spotted Toby. He was stood on his back legs on the railway bridge looking for trains. "I can see Toby Stanley, he is over there" I said feeling happy that Id found him but a little bit cross that he had ran so far. Me and Flat Stanley ran over to Toby and tied the lead back together. Toby was very excited to see us "Come on Tobes lets get home!" I said.

My Flat Stanley Mini Story

It was a hot and sunny day and flat Stanley and his family decided to go to the zoo. He wanted to go to see the lions because they were his favourite. When he got there he saw a man going in the lion's den, the gate locked behind him. The man didn't know the den was full of terrifying lions. Stanley said to himself I should save him so he came up with a plan. He slid through the bars and said to the man "quick fold me into a key, because this den is full of lion's!" The man quickly turned Stanley into a key and they escaped just in time. Stanley got an award for being so brave and they lived happily ever after. The end. By Lottie

My Flat Stanley Mini Story

It was a hot, sunny Saturday morning when Stanley's mum and dad asked him if he would like to go to the beach." You can choose three friends to come along if you like" said Stanley's mum.

Stanley chose his three best friends Alex, Charlie and Josh. The boys were super excited and couldn't wait to set off. "I'll take my new football to play with on the beach," said a laughing Alex.

As soon as the family reached the beach they settled down on a spot near the sea. The waves were crashing over the rocks creating a white foam. The seagulls were circling overhead screeching like someone in pain. After their delicious picnic the four boys decided to have a game of football. Alex said "I'll be the goalie." Charlie and Josh were fighting to score a goal when Josh kicked the ball as hard as he could. Unfortunately Alex didn't manage to catch the ball and it flew up and up then down, down into the stormy sea. "Oh no what now" shouted Stanley. "Don't worry I'll fetch it." said Alex and waded into the foamy sea. By now the waves were getting rougher and Alex was struggling to stand up. "Help, help" he screamed at the top of his voice, panicking and frightened.

Josh was terrified that Alex was going to drown while Charlie stood shivering, crying and flapping his arms about like a crazy bird.

Stanley's mum and dad arrived on the scene having been buying ice creams for everyone. They took charge of the situation and shouted "Quickly Stanley lay flat like a surfboard and paddle out to Alex. "Stanley didn't hesitate and floated out into the rough sea to save his struggling friend. Stanley and Alex struggled back to the beach coughing and crying but glad to be safe.

Stanley's mum gave them both a massive hug and wrapped them up in big fluffy towels.

"Well done Stanley, you were very brave" said his dad bursting with pride. "Come on boys, lesson learned not to go into the sea when it is so rough." added Stanley's mum.

"Right let's eat these ice creams before they melt away or the seagulls snatch them."

Everyone laughed and tucked into their dripping ice creams.
